as only PHSer's can!

Mr. Neel makes admission happen.

P.H.S. was filled with action in '71. This year was a year with happenings all its own. But it was the people of Pioneer High School that made these things happen and are making it happen.

The students and teachers made learning happen, as it never has happened before; with new audio-visual aids, a larger library, and new teaching methods.

The people in organizations worked together to make fun and spirit happen as organizations sponsored such events as Pioneer's Christmas dance, and fun-filled parties.

The faculty, together with the new principal, Mr. Slover, made good leadership happen as they guided over 600 junior and senior high school students on the road to adulthood.

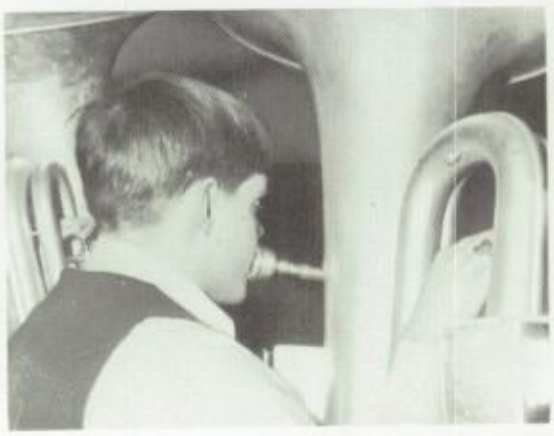
The students themselves made such things happen as leadership, competition, and fads as they became class and organizational officers, joined athletic teams, or started wearing the maxis.

Everyone worked together to make P.H.S. the high school that it is—a place where people are making it happen.

Steve is making thought happen.

Club parties make fun happen.

Band students make music happen.



Helping hands happen in P.E.

Making it happen in School Life.

The happening scene at Pioneer during the 1970-71 year was a blend of many sights, sounds, and emotions. The action packed Panthers fascinated many fans as they confronted their opponents. The novel designs on the senior cords tempted any onlooker to envy the ingenuity of the senior. The frequent soc-hops sponsored by various organizations allowed the students to relax from the usual pace of high school life.

The hourly alert of the school bells was a constant anxiety of the students to arrive to their next class on time. The shuffling of shoes on the teraza floors presented a familiar sound to the halls of Pioneer. The spirited cheers of the pep club filled the gymnasium as these loyal fans supported their favorite team—the Panthers.

These sights, sounds, and emotions are merged to form the lasting memories of the high school years.

happenings for all their Participants.

Kathy Kleeman can tell you practice for band doesn't stop in the summer time.

The three months of summer vacation did not offer total relaxation to everyone. Many of Pioneer High's students devoted much of their time to part-time or full-time jobs. Others were engrossed in a summer school program of drivers education. This consisted of a two week, four hour per-day classroom course plus twenty hours of "behind the wheel" driving experience.

Some of the students attended scholastic or athletic camps in which they received knowledge and skills beyond those available during a regular school year.

Although much time was spent doing these things, everyone did find a few hours to spare and used them to create summer happenings long to be remembered.

Last summer passed too quickly for some and not quickly enough for others. Gradually the months became days and another happening school year had begun.

Pioneer students make awards and institutes

Valedictorian Sharon Weiand and Salutatorian Alan Clary.

An award—a great honor for outstanding service in some field. Many of the students of Pioneer received such recognition. These students dedicated themselves to some area of sports, drama, music, or academics. They showed how the school of Pioneer can participate in happenings and bring honor to the community as well as themselves.

Some of the students attended Summer Institutes learning new and exciting arts, crafts, and ideas. Among those attended were Band Camp, Majorette Camp, Cheerleading Camp, and Yearbook Camp. The knowledge these students obtained has helped them and their school. They helped to make a 1971 happening!

Best Thespian—Jan Schmaltz. Lighting—Jim Campbell, Best Actress—Julie Miller, Best Actor—Harlan Rittenhouse.

Yearbook Sales winners—Deb Calloway and Gregg Ladd.

The Younger Generation Digs the Happening

The bell sounded and immediately footsteps emerged from everywhere at once. People were scurrying from place to place, each one searching for "a happening" to discover his real self. As time reaches forward Pioneer shall always know a continuous happening of those entering to learn and those leaving to learn more.

As students enter and exit they bring and take with them the styles of clothing and grooming from the fashion world. This year was no exception. Wire-rimmed glasses, shoes trimmed with buckles and other hardware, stack heels, maxi and midi skirts, long sideburns, boots and levis were the most popular fads of the students during a very happening school year of 1970-71.

Wintertime saw the lowering of the coat styles as girls wore the new and also warm maxi-coats.

the emergance of blue jeans, frilly tops, and go-go girls!

This year PHS displayed the short and the long of things.

Long sideburns, long hair, and strapped boots were the men's fads as Pioneer students quickly showed.

The Scout Staff printed all the local news.

The SCOUT staff this year was kept busy printing all of Pioneer's happening news. The journalism class, transformed into editors, reporters, typists and printers, learned valuable experience in producing our school newspaper.

Mr. Linton, teacher and advisor, was always present to give his assistance with whatever difficulty someone on the staff might be having. This year promoted many happenings in the world of news and the journalism class was always on their toes, eager to get the scoop.

Barry, Cheryl, and Joyce helped to make the Scout what it was, great happening.

Mike Ingram types away to present the Scout to the students of Pioneer.

The Scout Staff consisted of: Row 1—B. Frye, M. Watts, D. Williamson, J. Rogers, M. Ingram. Row 2—S. Wagner, B. Powlen, L. Simons. Row 3—E. Dilts, R. Horn, S. Fry, B. Shipley, Joyce McMillen, C. Herrick and S. Nicoll.

Conestoga staff strives to meet Deadlines.

Cheryl Herrick, copy editor, asks Sharon Weiand, editor, "Is this how you want it?"

The Pioneer Conestoga staff was small in size this year but reaped the rewards of satisfaction as they completed the 1970-71 yearbook. Working together as a team, the annual was compiled without too much difficulty.

Many hours were spent after school, working hard to meet deadlines and assignments. Although many people think this would be an easy task, it is easy to understand why it takes a lot of ambition and effort to produce a book of this type. Along with the gratification of knowing the job was done well, each member of the staff will long remember his part in making the 1970-71 happening year a memory for many others.

Sharon shows Ruth and Rose a more humorous shot.

Convocations appeal to students having varied

This year the students at Pioneer enjoyed many interesting and "happening" convocations. Congressman Hillis was a special attraction at one such convo. He was present one day to present our school with a flag that had flown over our National Capitol. This was a very special convocation which was made possible by one of our students, Rod Henry.

Of course, the other convocations were warmly welcomed by the students, always eager to be free from going to class. Several school organizations worked hard at preparing programs to present before the student body. Also this year the Junior Achievement organization from Logansport, Indiana were present at a convo. to inform the students of its purpose and in hopes of gaining new members from Pioneer.

"Dear Diary, Today the most wonderful thing

The Junior-Senior Play was a tremendous success both financially and theatrically this year. The cast was made up of some students relatively new to the dramatic arts department, but they proved to be promising prospects for the future.

The play was triggered mainly around one character, Betty Lou, a young teen-age girl full of life and "imagination." She kept a diary full of make believe happenings that consequently began coming true after her mothers secret knowledge of the diary's content.

"Come on Bernadine, parents just don't understand these teen-age problems."

OKLAHOMA comes to Panther Country as the

"Poor Jud is Dead" proved to be a highlight of the smokehouse scene.

"OKLAHOMA, where the wind comes sweepin' down the plain!" Oklahoma literally swept Pioneer High as one of their best musical productions ever. Never before had the school auditorium been filled to the point where many extra rows of seats had to be added in order to accommodate such large crowds. With three big performances the cast and crews demonstrated remarkable abilities at producing a great show. Oklahoma will long be remembered in the minds of many as a happening surpassing all others!

The couples enjoyed and danced to the music of the "We Three" trio.

"Santa's Wonderland," a yuletide happening.

"Santa's Wonderland" was the yuletide happening this year at P.H.S. Couples danced to the music aires of the "Tip Top Band," as the Christmas spirit enlighted the evening. Sponsored by the Student Council and National Honor Society, members succeeded in changing the school cafeteria into a fantasy world of candy canes and snowflakes.

"The Age of Aquarius" was the theme of the 1971 spring prom. The junior class decided they would do something a little different this year as they moved the dance to the Holiday Inn, Logansport, Indiana. Also there was an added highlight to this years prom . . . . a formal banquet.

The elegant ball room was a very romantic setting as the couples dined and danced in candle light. There were various decorations a few of which were the zodiac signs, with the sign of AQUARIUS being accented with flickering lights and deep shades of violet and red. The prom was truly a success and each senior felt deep gratitude for the juniors and a job well done.

BB season starts off with the Tip Off Dance.

Tracy Kuszmal and Mary Nies are greatly honored as King and Queen of the "Tip Off Dance." Their spirit and enthusiasm tip off the season.

Pioneer's Pep Club staged another happening last fall with it's annual Tip Off Dance. A preseason scrimmage revealed talent enough that the building shook with enthusiasm! The evening was highlighted when the King and Queen were announced. A special attraction was added to the dance this year . . . a huge, bright and warm, bonfire! The boy's Pep Club constructed a coffin with a "Caston Comet" inside and placed it on top of the heap, as a prediction of victory over Caston . . . our first rivals of the season.

Making it happen in Academics

With the world advancing so rapidly today, education is one of mans most prized possessions. The public school offers every individual a chance to grasp this opportunity. Pioneer High School is a highly credited school with a North Central Association rating. In the years of progress ahead Pioneer's academic standard will move onward toward new "happenings" in educational goals.

This year Pioneer High strived to equip it's students with the best facilities ever in it's academic areas. Several new tape recorders were purchased for the Audio-Visual Department, and also many new books were placed on the shelves of our school library. Besides our new facilities, our already excellent faculty gained six new members. Also added to the school staff was Mr. Slover, our Principal. Because of his excellent leadership our school "made it happen" in the academic department.

Math and science cultivate Pioneer's scientific

Pioneer's science department was really booming this year with Walter Slentz as its head. It included lab science, taught by Walter Slentz, Harry Flowers, and Laynos Billingsly; biology, taught by Walter Slentz; chemistry, taught by Thomas Layton, and physics, taught by Harry Flowers. Future world-famous (who can say?) scientists are getting their start right here, where science is making it happen.

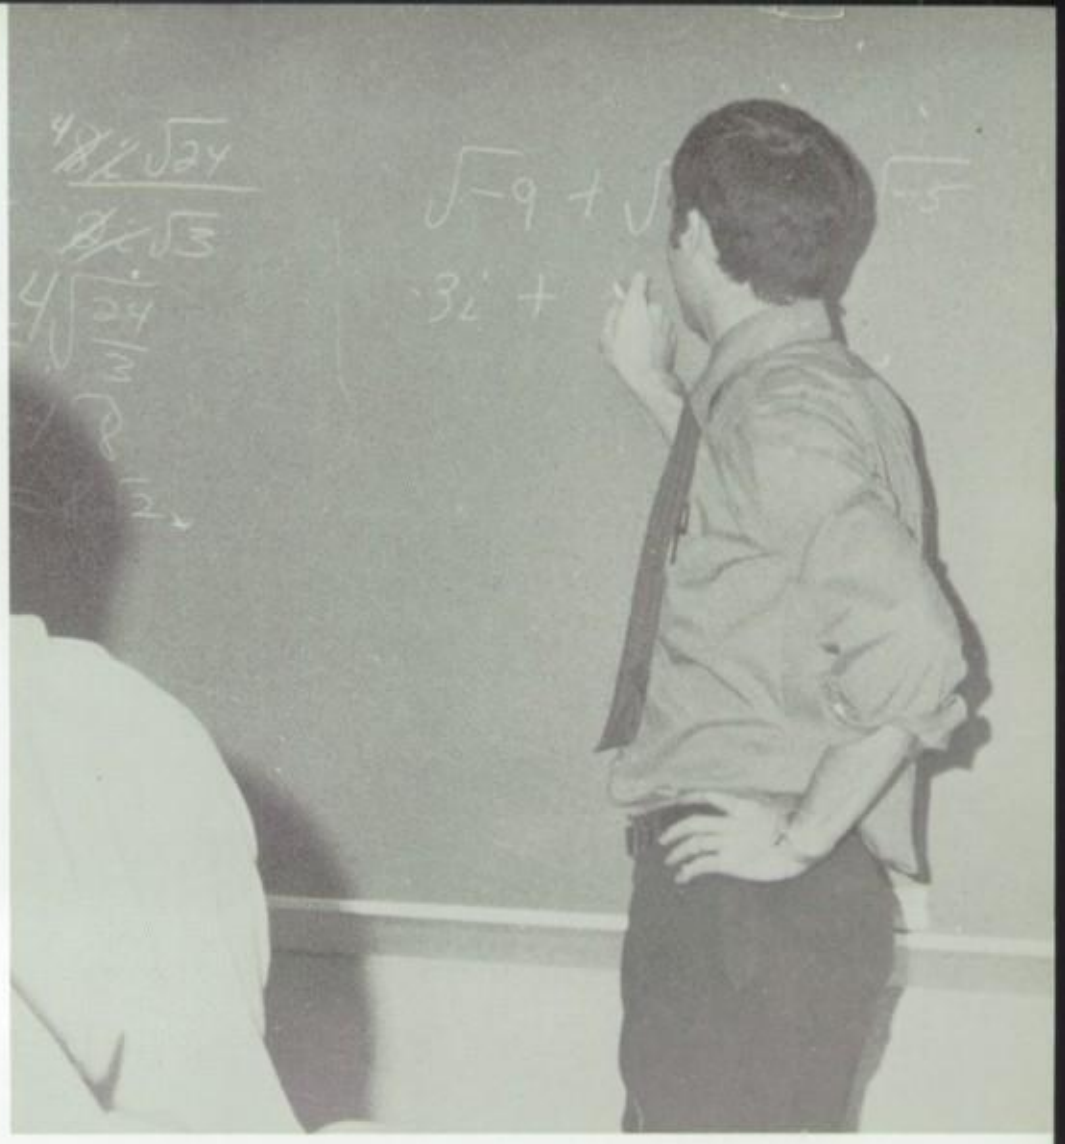
Mathematics plays an important role in our society and also an important role in Pioneer High School. Junior High math was taught this year by James Tower and Laynos Billingsly. The high school mathematics courses included general math, taught by Thomas Layton; Algebra I, taught by Harry Flowers and Thomas Layton; geometry, taught by Harry Flowers; Algebra II, taught by James Tower; Senior Math, taught by James Tower, and Practical Senior Math, also taught by James Tower.

James Tower was the head of our mathematics department this year. Because of his capable leadership, along with the cooperation and high academic standards of the other members of the department, students gained knowledge heretofore unknown to them. The job of teaching, as well as of learning; mathematics may have seemed a little more difficult than usual this year because the whole mathematics department received new books. But because of the stick-to-it-tive-ness of both students and teachers, the learning process 'happened'.



Every good senior math student knows that $v-9 = i\,v\,9 = 3i$, Right?

IA stresses vocational preparation.

Strange happenings were created in the shop classes each day as the hammers hammered and the saws sawed throughout each period.

Developing technique in another area of shop class, drafting, requires intense concentration and patience. The quality of workmanship of the shop students is to be commended. Their talents and diligence were revealed in the production of more difficult projects.

You say that I just cut the seat out of my pants?

Many happenings were whipped, creamed, roasted, baked, mashed, and chopped in Mrs. Rusk's Home Economics Class this year! Of course there were things happening in the sewing department too. This year not only girls displayed their projects, but also many of the boys in class proved they also could stitch a pretty straight seam!

Pioneer's Social Studies department is ever in

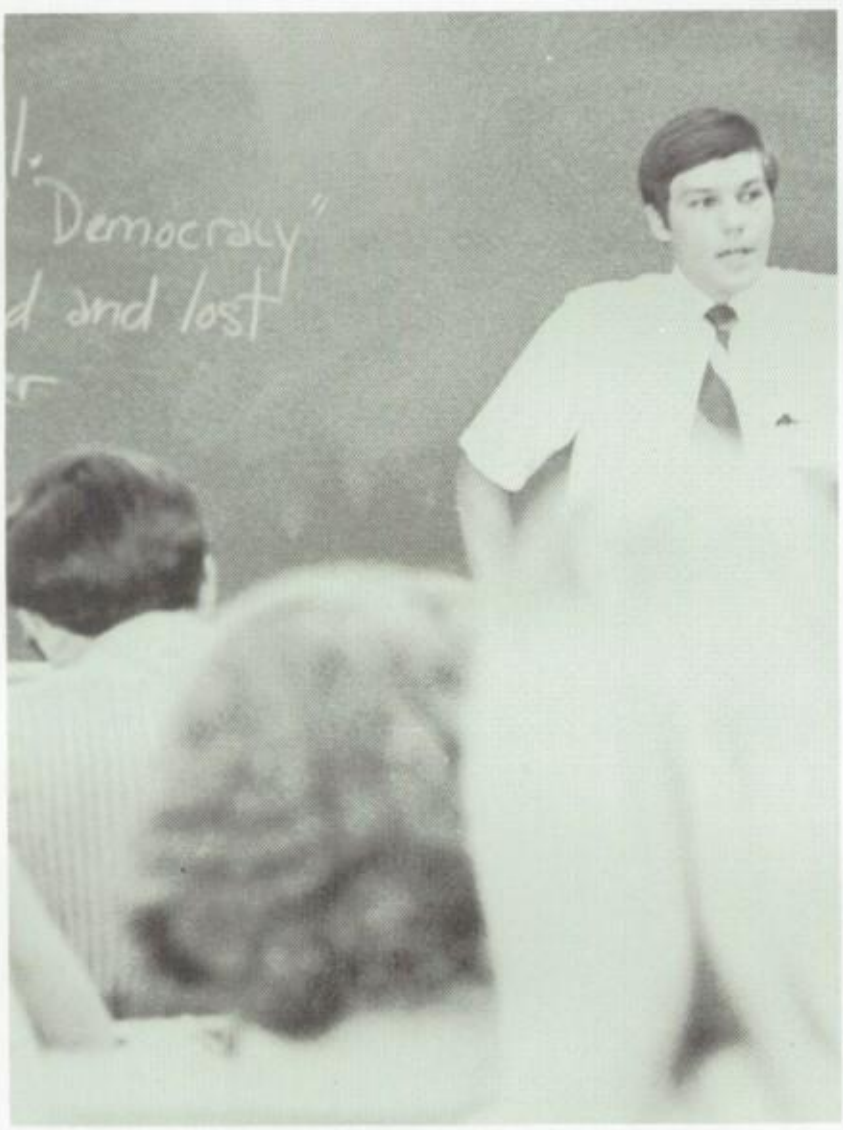
Every world history student studies the World Wars-I and II.



In what year did the War of 1812 begin? This is one of the more common questions asked of Mr. VanSickle's U. S. History class. There were also three other U. S. History classes this year which joined into one big class about four times a week for team teaching.

The social studies department, under the capable leadership of its head, William Neel, found the 1970-71 school year to be a very happening-filled one. Two new subjects added to the curriculum were modern lit. and creative writing, both taught by James Mentzer. William Neel, Michael VanSickle, and William Church all taught U. S. History. William Neel also taught junior civics, government, and psychology and directed the cadet teachers.

This year family relations was taught by Mary Rusk and Michael VanSickle, and world history by Michael VanSickle. All the Pioneer students who took these subjects found that the social studies department was a place where people were making it happen.

Speech class builds speaker confidence.

Mr. Linton discusses the speech cycle.

"Mr. Linton, do I have to today?" This is the question often ask by the speech students right before they are ready to deliver their speeches. However, as time passed and confidence was gained it became not only a challenge but also fun to speak before fellow classmates.

This year speech class was only offered one semester, so it was very important that the students did their best so they could cover more material and areas of speech. Speech students, although often very nervous, helped to "make it happen" at P.H.S. this year.

Modern business techniques intrigue students.

The business department at Pioneer High was full of happenings as each day began with the tap of rulers, the click of the typewriters, and pencils writing. Mr. Aldridge, Mrs. Fickle, and Mrs. Munson worked hard to prepare their students with the most modern forms and techniques of the business world.

Students worked diligently each day preparing themselves for the very "happening" world in their future. The commercial world will find itself well-blessed with assets when Pioneer's ambitious students make their way in business.

world—English, Spanish, and Latin.

Although there are hundreds of various languages throughout the world, English is probably most dominate. Pioneer offers it's students not only the required English course, but also Spanish and Latin. Many students find it interesting to compare differences and similarities among the three.

Not only do the students enjoy the knowledge they gain from these areas of study, but they also find it fun to work on several projects throughout the year.

These students learn to speak Spanish via audio aids.

Art III—a new challenge in the art scene

Fingernails clean, Jane?

The art department had a very happening year to be proud of, with each student using his own skills and talent to produce art creations unique in every way. Pioneer High's young artists became familiar with the use of paints, and clay. Many learned the technique and patience of pencil sketching. There were also such projects as weaving rugs, making space modulators, and chalk drawing.

Another area in art work is the study and research of various famous painters and sculptors throughout our history. The students found that it is important to know and understand the works of early artists, thus it is easier to appreciate them.

A first at Pioneer—Vocational Schools!

A newly obtained happening at Pioneer Jr. Sr. High School was that of being an active part of an area vocational school. The school has two divisions; mechanics and health careers. Our school was happy to be able to send 10 boys and 6 girls to participate in such a fine program.

The main purpose of the vocational school was to entice the interests of those students who were not college bound, giving them the opportunity to develop skills in various areas of vocation. The program proved to be quite successful and is expected to become bigger and better in the years to come.

Making it Happen in Faculty and Administration

Pioneer had an outstanding teaching staff this year. It was their responsibility to instill, by their example, good character, citizenship, and leadership qualities in the students. Through their patience and knowledge they showed the students the benefits which would be attained by a devoted interest in scholarship. Many times the teachers would spend many extra hours after school helping students who needed individual help. They also showed interest in extra-curricular activities, and many served as sponsors for various organizations and projects. The teachers certainly did their part in making this year "happen" in stride.

"make it happen"

The happening scene at Pioneer High School could not function without the administrative staff. However, a revision of last year's score brought new school board member and a new principal, John Slover.

The role of the secretaries in the high school and superintendent offices were like the beat of drums behind a symphony, always there but never getting quite enough credit for the important positions they hold.

Pioneer's guidance counselors were always there to lend a helping hand to those in need of assistance with schedules or solutions to personal problems. Mrs. McCrea was always busy trying to keep the students of the whole corporation healthy. Every one of these people help to make Pioneer a cheerful and happy happening place to be.

integral part of a rounded education

Our school wouldn't be complete without the help of people in various special areas. These people are always happy to assist students in whatever problem they might have. Without their constant concern and understanding, many students would have turned away and thought themselves as failures.

Happenings happen and time does go on, but our school will always find a tremendous need for those who work in the special areas of our administration.

They're always on the move—Busdrivers

Through rain, snow, sleet, or hail, the noble bus driver must deliver his cargo to its destination. Pioneer's 15 drivers for the '70-'71 school year endured many hardships while attempting to fulfill their respective duties—spit-wad fights, hair-pulling, screaming meemies, and on and on. Though little lauded, the bus driver has one of the most vital functions in the smooth operation of a high school institution. Without the safe delivery of the student to the schools, it just couldn't exist.

Organizations Make it Happen

The most important aspect of school is to get a good education, but there many things that cannot be learned from books. The social development of the students has been partly obtained from their participation in the various activities of the school year. Talents, leadership, cooperation, and responsibility were tested as the students served on committees and worked on different projects. Each new "happening" provided experiences that will serve as guidelines for bright futures.

NHS initiates record high—sixteen!

The National Honor Society, an active organization, started its busy year off by co-sponsoring the annual Christmas Dance in December. During the basketball season, the members had cake raffles to make money for various projects. During the month of March, the National Honor Society initiated sixteen new members into their organization, two seniors and fourteen juniors. They were (as pictured below) B. Powlen, R. Henry, D. Berry, J. Carlson, N. Marshall, C. Ironmonger, L. Gray, M. Elliott, V. Davis, P. Heard, J. Jones, S. Crimmins, D. Campbell, G. Gibson, M. Conn, and L. Weaver.

This year our class representatives of the Student Council "made it happen" in many ways. For the first time they were excused from classes at Pioneer High School and traveled to area schools to observe other teaching techniques, school facilities, and student behavior. They also printed a report which appeared in the school newspaper every two weeks. This was beneficial to the students, helping them to better understand the council's decisions throughout the year, and to appreciate our fine school to a greater degree. We at P. H. S. are proud to have had such responsible and worthy people working with the student body and faculty to make our school a notable "happening" scene.

come alive at PHS

The Spanish Club came back to life this year with a roar—of laughter!! What was all the laughing about? First, it was the Halloween party. That was a first when the magic word to winning a prize was "no"! (For all of you who did not attend, when you answered any question asked you with a "yes", you lost one of your black m&m's. At the end of the game, the person with the most black m&m's won a prize.) Then came the pinata and Christmas! With all that candy, I wonder if anyone got a three-day belly-ache?

La Estudiantina also left it's mark on 1971. This year they had several singing engagements including ones at the Logansport YM-YWCA. The eight students in this group, along with their sponsor, Mr. Mentzer, are to be commended for their spirit as they sing in various languages of the globe.

The SNHS, along with the other groups worked hard to make it happen—memorably.

Slaves get workout at Latin banquet.

"Line up!" barked Greg Goodrich, auctioneer, at the 1971 slave drive. First year students, dressed as slaves, did line up on hands and knees to take part in their traditional initiation at the annual "Roman Banquet." The slaves not only served their masters throughout the banquet, but also performed any stunts that were ask of them. Naturally there were many requests made by the older members, and the slaves soon discovered that this type of activity could not only be fun but also work.

This slave is performing one of the many requests asked of him at the Roman Banquet.

These Latin Club officers smile happily, knowing their year in office was a good one.

Under the direction of Theodore Linton, the Pioneer Speech Club made great strides this year. The club not only expanded to twenty-five members, but also sent some to district speech competition where they brought home some winning ribbons. The first time that Pioneer's Speech Club has ever won a trophy was this year, as they brought home one second place Sweepstakes trophy and a fifth place trophy from the Logansport Speech Invitational! Those members really made it happen!

The club motto, "Act well your part," proved to be quite true this year, as Thespians participated actively in some very interesting and worthwhile convocations. To get the year off to a good start the Thespian Society had a formal initiation. Many Thespian members made it happen this year also by participation in Pioneer's musical . . . OKLAHOMA!!!

The hours of diligent practice within soundproof walls proved beneficial as the band members reaped the rewards of hard work by the applause at their well attended concerts and their performances at ball games. Different types of music satisfied the various moods of the audiences. Each department in music, including the four areas in the band department, was responsible for entertainment throughout the year.

The concert band, besides its many playing engagements, also sponsored a major money making project—by its presentation of the Mid-America Singers from Indiana State University.

For the first time in the Pioneer Marching Band history, they made a grand appearance on television at the Lafayette Christmas Parade. Both the concert and the marching bands were the originators of fantastic happenings!

A new happening was added to the music department this year with the unfolding of the swing choir. "The Sounds of Pride" which consisted of not only the swing band and choir but also various small rock groups, proved to be quite professional as they were warmly welcomed by many schools during their spring tour. Directed by Mr. McGhee, each member found that music was an important part of the happening scene at Pioneer High School.

The Swing Choir—J. Schmaltz, J. Miller, J. McMillen, J. Carlson, J. Wisely, H. Rittenhouse, C. Bonnell, G. Goodrich, J. Hatten, D. Gerrard, J. Campbell, J. Miller, G. Newell, J. Nethercutt, J. Brandt, D. Campbell, C. Herrick.

The chorus made it happen this year with many fun-filled experiences. Performing at many concerts, including the Christmas and Spring concerts, our chorus proved to be a very talented and energetic group. This year the chorus had a new director, Mr. Taylor, who encouraged the group to work hard and do their best. This apparently was sound advice, for many members placed high in honors at state solo competition.

The Sunshine Society is an active organization which adds cheer and kindness to the school and community. Since the main goal of the Sunshiner is to help others; they give baskets to the poor at Thanksgiving, collect money for the Riley Fund, and help support a Korean orphan.

One way the girls earn money for their projects is by selling candles. Other happenings that appear on a Sunshiners datebook include: Daddy Date Night, The Mother and Daughter Banquet, and the tea for the Ideal Ladies. The main event of the year, however, is the "Sweetheart Ball," a happening in February, exclusively for Sunshiners and their special dates.

Making it happen in Sports . . .

This year's complete athletic program was once again a total success. Many excellent athletes were produced from this fine program, and the school's traditional sportsmanship was projected in all competition. Teamwork and school spirit, as well as the fine coaching staff present in each field, attributed to many Pioneer victories.

True athletic abilities were revealed through many toilsome hours of practice with continuous training from grade school through high school. Desire and confidence played an important role in attaining these goals . . . to finish first in a race, to make the starting lineup, to win a wrestling match, or a golf meet. Each team became aware of the need for improvement as they faced the challenging squads of other schools. Realization of their individual mistakes helped in forming a strong and more experienced team. The sport's scene was a happening place this year with many thrilling and exciting experiences.

as they cheer our team on to victory!

After attending Smith Waldridge Camp, our cheerleaders came back with new chants, yells, stunts and routines. Filled with enthusiasm, the girls were eager to teach members of the Pep Clubs, and other fans, what they had learned.

This summer at camp, the girls received a second place in competition among other cheerleaders there. This happening proved that Jean, Shelly, Pam, and Vickie were talented and quite expert in their skills. Without their constant leadership and cooperation, Pioneer's "team spirit" would surely have suffered.

The freshman cheerleaders from top to bottom are; Anita Luey, Marilu Myers. From left to right; Deb Bebee, and Tammy Herriford. These girls show the unique formation that requires balance and skill, qualities all cheerleaders must have. All the Cheerleaders are to be commended for their superior performance this year in making the 1971 Basketball season part of the happening.

Pioneer guys show the stuff that makes our

Pioneer's "70-71" track team again showed their physical talents. Provided with such fine facilities, the team had no handicaps whatsoever this year.

With everyone contributing his efforts the track team again produced a very productive season. Although several members will be lost through graduation we all can still anticipate another great season next year.

The Pioneer track team knows the joy of taking both first and second places, especially Rick Cotner and John Farris.

Dave gives all he has as he becomes air-borne in the long jump.

Mike Conn races towards the finish line to take another first place.

show promising talents.

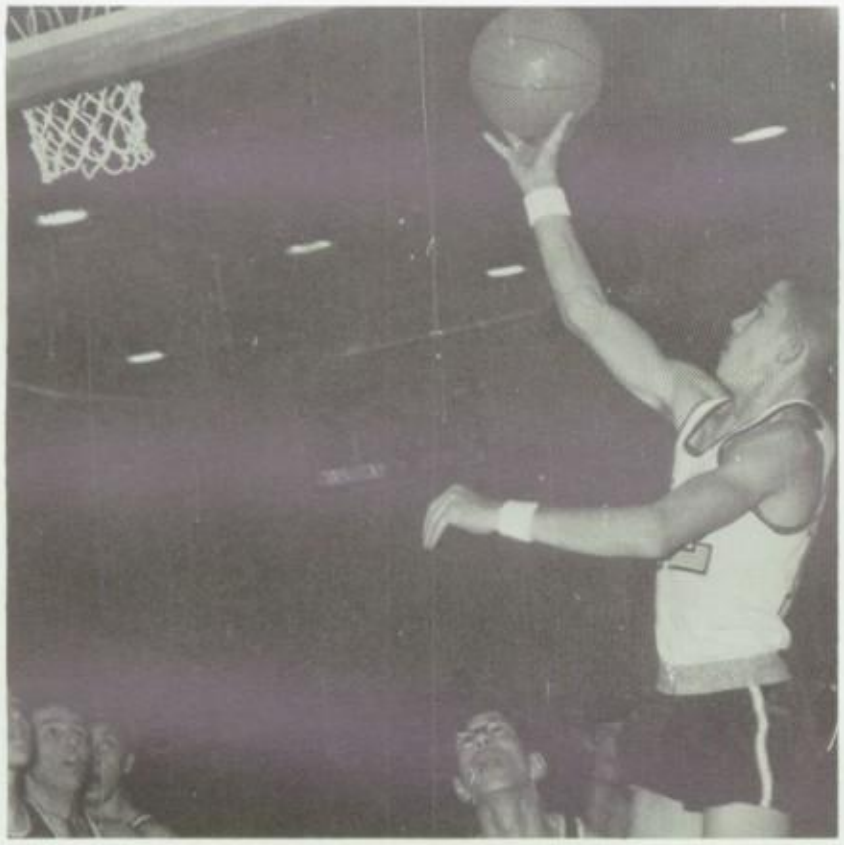
John Hostetter, frosh, surely kept the other teams on their toes. Here he sinks another for the mighty Panthers.



Jim Conn lays it up for another Panther two as the others watch with awe. The Panthers take the lead.

Some freshman got to play on the JV team. Tom Farrer was one of these fortunates. Here he shows the form and stance that made it possible.

The 1970-71 Frosh and Junior Varsity basketball season was filled with many hectic and "happening" moments. The Freshman team molded themselves into an outstanding team and one very difficult to defeat. Each member contributed his upmost abilities and skill, all aiding toward victory.

The Junior Varsity Panther squad had it's share of winnings this year also. Height and speed proved to be a big advantage for the unveiling of this Panther team. This year's B-team was very experienced because of several seasons of tough, energetic, and sacrificing hours of diligent training.

One important rule stressed consistantly this year was the fact that it takes a "whole" team to be victorious. Whether a team member be sitting on the bench waiting his turn to play, or whether he be running down the floor attempting to score points for his team, every one of our Panthers is important and without "team spirit" our victories would surely have ceased.

Combined with great coaching by Michael VanSickle and James Tower and superb personnel, both teams showed much improvement over the initial year. The team's hustle and desire was also a contributing factor to the much improved attendance over last year's basketball season.

The Baseball Team of Pioneer hits off another

Larry Collins is ever ready and alert for a ball coming his way. All the Panther team members work like Larry to make our team the great team that it is.

Pioneer had a great season in baseball, with many wins to be proud of. With the seniors making their last attempts at the base and in the field, and with the help of the "rookies" Pioneer's baseball team proved to be victorious in more ways than one. The desire and attitude of this team changed a rebuilding season into one of the best in Pioneer's history.

A new happening highlighted the Panther team this season, that being the placement of a new man in the position of head coach. Mr. VanSickle, the man behind this great team, encouraged and guided the boys as they displayed great sportsmanship at every game.

One of the good things about our team is that most of them will be returning next year to display their talents once again. Pioneer will be looking forward to bright happenings, team victories, and skillful players . . . . all a part of the baseball scene.

state finals in volleyball competition.

WE Made State Finals! This was the chant of the G.A.A. girls as they returned home after placing second in district competition, making it possible for them to compete in state-wide volleyball competition.

This was not the only happening the G.A.A. girls at Pioneer High made possible. For the first time the girls added a new sport to their Winter agenda . . . snow skiing!

Including this new sport, G.A.A. members also participate in areas of basketball, track, soccer and gymnastics. Many found it fun and rewarding to attend G.A.A. Spring and State Camps too.

Grapplers make best season yet happen.

With much practice and dedication to the sport, the 1970-71 wrestling team made their third wrestling campaign an immense success. Combined with great coaching and superb personnel, the grappling team showed much improvement over the initial year. The team's hustle and desire was also a contributing factor in the much improved attendance over last years wrestling season. The boys made it happen with every pin and win.

Another happening sport at Pioneer is that of golf. The golf team this year featured many experienced upperclassmen who proved they could hold their own with many area golfers. Plagued with limited practice area, the boys made many trips to Logansport to sharpen skills before competing in a meet. These golfers represented Pioneer well and we can all look forward to another sound, happening golf team next year.

Pioneer presents . . some of the greatest!

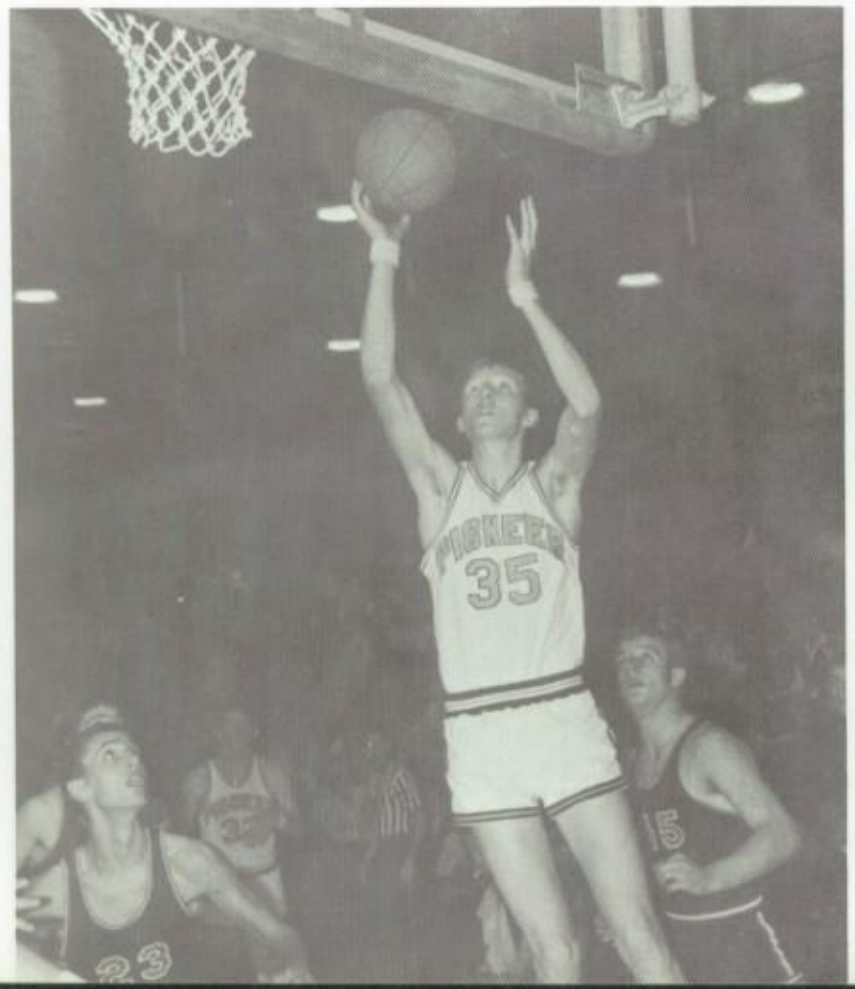
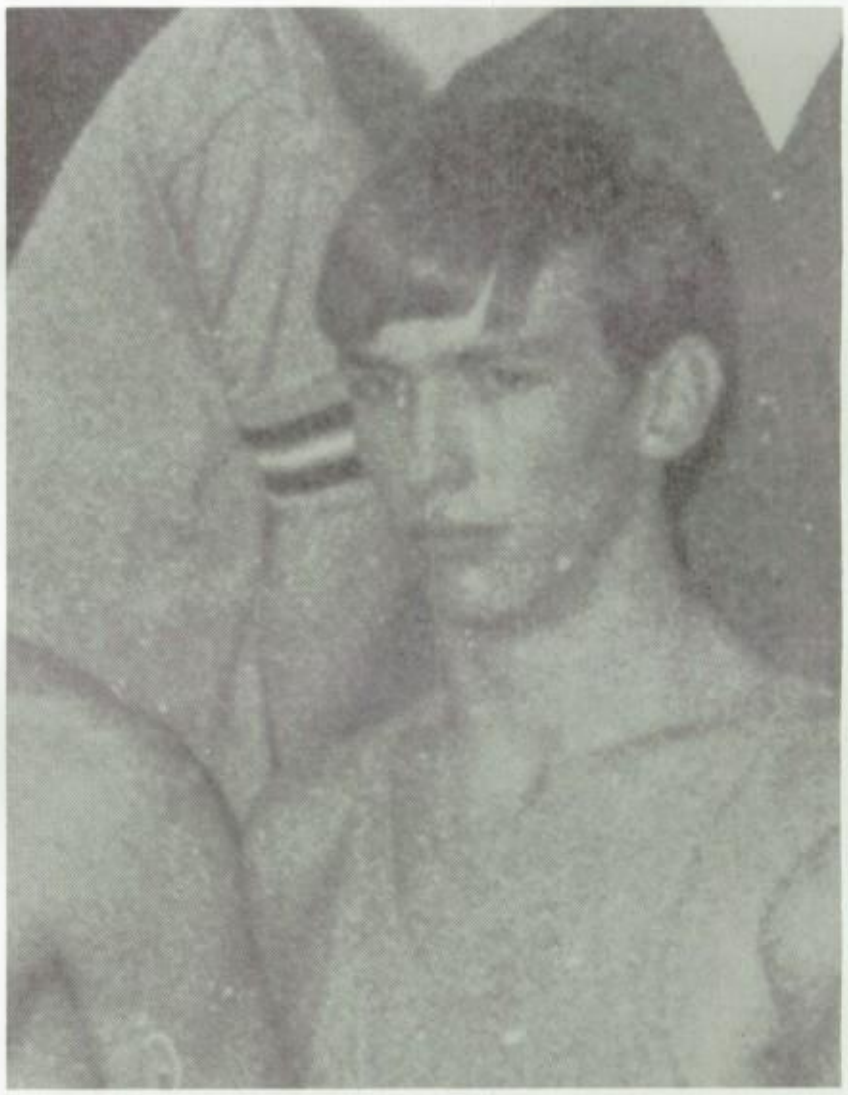
There are always those who excel in certain areas of school life. Pioneer is pleased this year to have several young men who have succeeded in a given sport and were named best for their athletic abilities. In todays fast moving world, where competition is very great, to be rewarded for outstanding performance in any activity is a great honor.

The "All Star" is not only a person who excels in athletic competition, he is also one who portrays excellence in leadership and character. Optimism and a willingness to achieve make the All Star a proud but not conceited person, eager to aid others with his talents and skills. People like these fine students help to make Pioneer a happening scene in excellence . . . . . a promising trait.

Tom Farrer, best in Cross Country, breaks the winner's tape.

Dave Bormann, basketball champ, increases the Panther lead by two.





Rick Cotner, wrestling champ, is ready for the match.

The all-stars were honored at the All-Sports banquet.

Tracy Kuszmaul, honored for his outstanding abilities in track, crossed the line for another Panther win.

Making it happen in Album . . .

Although 1970-1971 was a grand finale to twelve years of study, it also became a prelude to better things and future happenings for the graduating class of Pioneer High School.

Past happenings of this year will long be remembered by those who are leaving, but new ones will take the place for those yet to come. So many activities took place this year, that it would be impossible to list them all. But the important part of each one of those activities was the students . . . the nucleus of each event.

Although no year to come will be exactly like this one has been, it is a prominent fact that each future year at Pioneer High will bring new and brighter happenings with the leadership of students and faculty alike. Pioneer High School makes it happen year in . . . and year out!

Making it happen in junior high

The seventh and eighth graders this year added a great deal to the every day happenings at PHS. From a forgotten locker combination to a misplaced room, things were a constant challenge to our novice high schoolers. By the end of the year these young "Panthers" were well versed in the Pioneer way, and really turned it on to do their thing and make it happen.

spirit happen!

The Junior High students at Pioneer High School are very much a part of the happening scence. Although being the younger set at P.H.S. they rapidly learn the routines of the typical school day.

These students quickly gained skills and talents which will be perfected in their future school years. Among these activities were those associated with sports and music.

Jay hurls the shot-put to make a winning score.
